MESSAGE

Wildlife Week celebration gives an opportunity to the budding conservationists of all ages to learn about habitat and ecology of incredible wild flora and fauna. Different wild animals and plant species often work as indicators of ecological health of an area.

For maintaining a healthy ecological balance on earth, variety of flora and fauna are as important as humans. It is an established fact that the existence of man is dependent on the other forms of life on this planet. Therefore, the responsibility for sustaining life rests on our present strategies of conservation and preservation of our natural resources.

So the need of the hour is to create awareness among every citizen for conserving nature and wildlife. The Forest & Wildlife Department has undertaken numerous activities, especially for the students and general masses. The generation of awareness in the young minds will auger well for the conservation of nature and natural resources in general and wildlife in particular. It is therefore, the duty of this department along with every citizen of Chandigarh to preserve and conserve this natural heritage. I wish the Forest & Wildlife Department, UT Chandigarh all success towards the preservation, protection and conservation of wildlife.
